Nathan Ochsner, Clerk

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF TEXAS
HOUSTON DIVISION

Leon Wolt and Debra Wolt,

Plaintiffs,

v.

Embankscape Equipment, LLC
d/b/a RC Mowers USA, Kar-Tech,
Inc., Kar-Tech Global, Inc., Ariens
Company, d/b/a Gravely,

Defendants.

Report,” and Bates-numbered Kar-Tech 000094 through 108. According to Kar-Tech, the negotiated price structures contained in those documents are properly classified as confidential pursuant to the protective order. See Dkt. 60 at 5. The Wolts explained, however, that Kar-Tech redacted those confidential price structures when producing these documents. See Dkt. 66 at 3-4. The Court thus concludes that these documents, as produced in their redacted form, do not qualify as confidential. Accordingly, the confidentiality designations on Kar-Tech 000094 through 108 are STRICKEN.<sup>1</sup>

The Wolts’ second motion to compel (Dkt. 56). At the hearing, the Wolts clarified that their motion seeks documents responsive to their second motion to compel production to the extent those documents concern another model of mower—the TK-60XP—rather than other non-mower devices. The Court agrees that responsive documents regarding the TK-60XP must be produced. It is therefore ORDERED that those documents be produced by July 29, 2024.

Finally, the Court addressed the Wolts’ concern that Kar-Tech has not produced an unspecified number of communications or other documents sent to or received from Defendant Embankscape Equipment, LLC that Embankscape has produced. This asymmetry in Defendants’ productions raises legitimate questions about the completeness of Kar-Tech's production. The Court therefore directs Kar-Tech to inform the Wolts, by July 18, 2024, what repositories of documents and communications have been searched, and which Kar-Tech custodians' emails have been searched. Consistent with its discovery obligations, Kar-Tech must undertake a thorough search of its electronic and other files and ensure that its production is complete.
